8:20 PM-10:35 PM (at home): I asked my friends on social media (Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram) if they know a business owner/manager. I also asked my sister if she knows anyone who owns a business or any of her friends owns or knows someone who owns a business.

8:20 PM – 8:25 PM (at home): My friend, Divina, responded back telling me that she knows someone who owns a business. A specialty grocery store & food delivery service named Isles Pinoy Depot. I asked her to contact her friend on my behalf. She said she would let me know if her friend replies.

10:10 PM -10:30 PM (at home): I messaged Thanh on Instagram asking if the sushi owner of Les Freres Sushi is fully agreeing to work with us. I talked to her about what the sushi owner had said so far when she communicated with him on Facebook.

10:15 AM – 10:45 PM (at home): I talked again to my friend, Divina, who updated me that there was no response yet from the second potential client. If the first client declined our proposal, I was planning to go to the store of the second client.

2:25 PM – 2:40 PM (at home): I downloaded MS Project 2021 and MS Visio 2019 on my laptop.

4:10 PM – 4:45 PM (at home): I posted on Reddit under the group /montreal (sadly, the moderator later deleted my post) and Facebook Groups to check for other potential clients in case our first client canceled on us. I also searched online for any restaurants and stores Downtown that do not seem to have web applications. I wanted to make sure we had a backup plan (other potential clients).

5:30 PM - 5:40 PM (at home): I called the mother of my friend to ask for other potential clients that she knows. She said she will call me back after she asked around.

7:25 PM – 7:30 PM (at home): I asked my mother if any of her friends on Facebook knows anyone who owns a business.

9:15 AM – 9:20 AM (at home): My mother contacted me about two potential clients that I could contact. One of her friends knows the owner of the restaurant called Food 4 Less and the other one, which my mother forgot the name of, is a small food store located in Plamondon.

10:55 AM – 11:05 AM (at home): I informed my mother and my friend, Divina, that we already have a final client because the first client finally agreed to work with us when Thanh called him at 10:00 AM.

Opinion on the Team: I think that the team is doing good so far. The members have been participating during the meetings and giving suggestions/ideas.
